

2-Day Human Resource Series

Day 1 - September 9, 2026

Day 2 - September 16, 2026

The primary focus of this 2-Day Human Resource Series is to provide supervisors, new leaders and those who perform people-related functions in a business, with both a broad overview of the human resource functions and give them the tools they require to deal with day-to-day human resource tasks.

Whether you are a new leader or supervisor or small business owner, these 2 sessions will provide everything from how to write a job description to how to hire the right employee and deal with performance issues.

This training will assist in improving your skills by learning the fundamentals of human resource management. Today, more than ever, knowing how to attract and retain employees is critical to the success of an organization.

You will develop comprehensive recruitment tools to attract and select staff to behavioural-based interviewing, performance management, and staff retention strategies.
